 any daily paper in this section.

Mayor Barclay's political boat has been safely guided through three caucuses.

It was noticed that State's Attorney Jackson cast his ballot with the rest of them.

The worn-out newspaper cuts of Miss Alice will now be placed away in the files for future reference.

The country has successfully married off Alice Roosevelt to Congressman Longworth and will rest from its exertions.

The actress, Sarah Bernhardt, scolded an audience in Youngstown, Ohio, because it was so small. She scolded in French, and the audience not understanding, thought it was a fine bit of acting and applauded vigorously. Youngstown is not the only town which does not understand the French actress, but it's the popular thing to see and hear Bernhardt.

A STEP IN A GREAT WORK.

The incorporation of the "Vermont Sanatorium" for treatment of those afflicted with tuberculosis is the third step in the fulfillment of that which has been the hope of Vermonters for many years, the previous steps having been the splendid gift of Senator Proctor and the selection of the site of the sanatorium at Pittsford, in Rutland county.
 From this time on, the work of constructing the buildings will probably be pushed rapidly to its completion. The purposes of the corporations, as outlined in the papers just filed, are "to establish and maintain for the benefit of the people of Vermont a sanatorium for the cure and treatment of tuberculosis, to encourage and aid all efforts put forth for the suppressing and prevention of tuberculosis and to do all things lawful to accomplish the cure and prevent the spread of said disease." The incorporation states that the sanatorium is not for the purposes of gain, but that it is a charitable institution, having no capital stock. The governing board is not less than fifteen, nor more than twenty-one, members, and is self-perpetuating.

Before another year this institution should be open for patients and be doing the great work which has been mapped out for it. The founding of this institution is really the entering wedge which promises to arrest the progress of the disease of tuberculosis in this state.
 The state tuberculosis commission has been doing a commendable work, but it has been handicapped by the lack of the opportunity for practical demonstration.

INTEREST OF CITIZENS.

More than one person remarked on leaving the citizens' caucus last evening that there was the spirit of the old New England institutions, in which town meeting bore a prominent part. And the expression was quite true. In the first place, no primary of such size has ever been held in this city. When the city

FARMERS ARGUE.

Two Hundred of Them Assembled in Rutland Yesterday.

Rutland, Feb. 17.—Over 200 farmers from all sections of Rutland county came here yesterday to attend the session of Killingdon Pomona, No. 14, Patrons of Husbandry, as it had been widely advertised. That some able speaker had been secured to debate the question of taxation. The question discussed during the entire afternoon was on the question that "The Private Holdings of Real Estate Bear More Than Their Just Share of the Public Burden Under the Present System of Taxation."

It was argued, and with emphasis that the farmers should not be taxed because they toiled often months at a time in clearing up their farm lands of stones, underbrush, stumps, decayed vegetation and the like. S. L. Peck of Ira spoke forcibly on this point and scored. H.
 E. Olson, president of the Rutland County Agricultural association, spoke at some length against the present system, as did Philip Elmwood, who stated that if the farmers were permitted to have the same optional liberty in taxation as the railroad companies, namely 2 1/2 per cent. of the gross income per year or 1 per cent. of the assessed valuation, allowing the farmer only a moderate salary for himself, then, at the end of each year the state would be owing the farmers of Vermont thousands of dollars. The speaker at the conclusion of his address was received with prolonged cheers. The farmers of this county are now contemplating legislative action.

"Yes, we have all the modern improvements in this flat. Here is the patent ventilating system. Here is the

 "Why, to send tips down to the jan-"That Miss Newcome next door to she?"

 "Yes, indeed."
 "Is it good music?"
 "It must be, for I can't make head or remarked the Observer of Events and whether there was a wedding or a cat night before."—Yonkers Statesman.

 the disagreeable qualities of which have been eliminated by the improved methods of modern science, and the remedy is made delightfully palatable. It is the perfected result of long study and its wonderful success is proof of its value.

IT WILL STOP that tickling sen-

ALEXANDER VERY ILL.

Former President of the Equitable Underwent Surgical Operation.

New York, Feb. 17.—James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, is seriously ill in his home in East 64th street.

His family is with him, and Dr. C. H.
 Chetwood is in attendance. Mr. Alexander underwent a surgical operation yesterday after being removed to his home from a sanatorium in Deerfield, Mass., on Wednesday.

It is said that Mr. Alexander has been suffering for some time with a chronic affection of the kidneys. An operation had been necessary for a long time, but owing to Mr. Alexander's physical condition resulting from his long illness, it was postponed as long as possible.
 The operation is said to have been successful and the physicians have hope of the patient's recovery despite his weakened condition and advanced age.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY.

Will Consider Wood Alcohol Poisoning Cases.

St. Albans, Feb. 17.—Acting upon the advice of Attorney-General Fitts, a special grand jury has been drawn to consider the cases of William W. White,
 home from a sanatorium in Deerfield, Mass., and his daughter, Eva White, all of whom are charged with manslaughter.
 The Whites are the respondents in the famous Richardford wood alcohol poisoning cases of November last when Mrs. Mary Legrandeur, Marshall H. Bliss and Nelson P. Royston, died in great agony after drinking liquor said to have been wood alcohol, and which it is claimed was procured from the Whites.

AS OTHERS SEE US

Go away from home for news, as the saying is.
 Here's the Brooklyn Eagle, which certainly has no Vermont axe to grind, giving machine politics in this state the benefit of a caustic pen. The Eagle says:

Everyone knows that one-side government is bad.
 The administration tend to become corrupt and the law-making falls into ruts. There has often been complaint of this sort in Vermont, but until four years ago, there was no such organized protest inside the republican party as could by any possibility secure reform. In that year P. W. Clement of Rutland, who had for some years been conducting a plucky and intelligent fight against the farcical prohibition law, ran for governor as an independent, after bolting the republican convention that declined to nominate him. He came within about 3000 votes of an election, after the most spirited campaign which the state had seen.

The legislature elected at the same time passed a local option law, which has freed the selling of liquor in such towns as vote for license from a shameful amount of hypocrisy.

This year Clement apparently proposes to run for governor again. He had made a contract with some 30 papers in the state to fill certain columns weekly with matter which he provides, and in that space he is carrying on a campaign against the local state administration. Clement is forcing a public discussion of taxation and for publicity for state expenditures.

Clement is also attacking the state system of taxation which drives millions of dollars outside the state for deposit in banks elsewhere, and which burdens the farmer by the double taxation of mortgages.

He is carrying on an intelligent, open discussion of state government. Vermont has need of that kind of a campaign more than almost anything else for years.

Whatever the outcome this fall may be, the state can hardly fail to be better off, morally and financially, for the sort of shaking up Mr. Clement is forcing.

It is a good while since a free and intelligent discussion has been carried on in Vermont. Mr. Clement deserves well of his fellow-citizens for having established such a bureau.

Moral: Attend the caucuses and vote, against the machine.

COATS AND FURS

Coats and Furs are still a topic for money-saving conversation at this store and it seems to us there has been no time this year when they have been quite so much needed as now. Certainly there never was a year when Coats and Furs could be bought to so good advantage—that is, if you buy them here.

SATURDAY'S ATTRACTION will be what has been the attraction of the week at this store—MUSLIN UNDERWEAR—and from the fact that the cotton materials have advanced so much in price in no instance will the same garments be placed on sale later for the price we now offer them, which is less for like qualities than they ever have been sold for before. There are a few of those 50c White Gloves left for 25c per pair.

NICE BONELESS CODFISH

We have just put in a new kind of Boneless Salted Codfish which is very well liked by those who use it.
 It is the Hustler Brand, put up by the Howard W.
 Spurr Company of Boston. Their method of removing the bones does not tear the fish into shreds, but leaves it in dainty squares. We sell this Salt Fish at 15 cents per pound box or in two-pound boxes for 25 cents.
